When I looked in my University Bookstore- a new book was $130.00. So, I checked out and I found both used (from around 11.00) and new (50.00 and up). I needed a new book because I needed a key card (to participate in my class-that is how my prof grades) so I purchased a new one for 56.00. It came but DID NOT include the key card. I wrote the distributor (3rd party) and asked if this was new why It did not contain a key card and why that was NOT mentioned in the description. Now I have to buy the key card solo for 113.00. I could have bought the book at my University bookstore that included the key code and book for less!0 of 2
