my time, and all praised Senior Discounts National Discount Guide 2008-2009; National, Regional and Local Discounts for the Over 50 Community:

Are you over 50? Are you getting the rewards and discounts you are entitled to? This Guide is the definitive source of businesses throughout the United States that offer discounts and deals to the over 50 population. Thousands of discounts are listed in this 578 page directory. Many can not be found anywhere else. The Senior Discounts Guide is in its second edition and seven years in the making. The Guide is based on information gathered through the SeniorDiscounts.com web site, which was founded in 2000, and boasts more than 150,000 business locations that offer senior discounts. There is no other source like it and membership to the web site is included with this Guide Book. You'll find information on everything from travel, hotels, restaurants, auto services, grocery stores, museums and local attractions, utilities, public transportation, home furnishings, banking and finances, movies theaters and rentals, pet supplies and veterinarians, bowling alleys, golf courses, beauty salons, sporting goods and virtually every other type of business, whether national or in your neighborhood. You'll learn what age you need to be to qualify for the senior discount. In most cases the discounts are not publicized, so without this book you would never know to ask. Discounts are listed for both national and local businesses, listed nationally and by city and state.
