Etta Diem : The Asphodel: Etta Diem's Encyclopedia of Harmful Sensations before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Asphodel: Etta Diem's Encyclopedia of Harmful Sensations:

This is a penny dreadful of harmful sensations. What is a harmful sensation? This is an event where something that should not cause any type of physical harm to a person does via the senses of seeing or hearing it. Etta Diem chronicles this strange phenomenon from one end of the alphabet to the other. Etta Diem's Encyclopedia of Harmful Sensations begins with The Asphodel, the strange, preternatural seeing machine of inventor spiritualist Huxley Auspex.

About the Author Etta Diem is a wonderful character created within the Snapdragon Tea graphic novel universe. Her origins are not well known, nor her true age or all the things she's seen and done. What is known about her is that she runs her own eclectic little shop Etta Diem's Attic Shoppe in Orange Moon Downs and spends a great deal of her time collecting strange or quirky stories and knowledge to put together within her many collections. The Encyclopedia of Harmful Sensations or Motifs, for short, is her exhaustive knowledge on the subject of urban legends and strange myths.
