Patricia Michelson : The Cheese Room before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Cheese Room:

"Every day I open the door to the cheese room and roll up the protective blinds to reveal my "treasures", sitting on their aged wooden shelves on straw mats. And every day I learn a little more about cheese". Patricia Michelson is passionate about cheese. Her wonderful North London shop, Le Fromagerie, reflects this in its unique stylish way.

It is a book for those who love it and have a desire to experience new tastes and pure uncomplicated ingredients. Don't expect boring lists of cheeses and where they come from, but do expect to learn from Patricia in her personal, relaxed, informative way. She shows you how easy it is to make fresh cheese at home and how to put together some amazing fondues and fantastic cheeseboards.
